Grand Opening for The Old Store!

Blue skies and billowing clouds set the stage for a grand opening and ribbon cutting at The Old Store in Lilesville March 13.

The Old Store is part convenience store, part antique store and part restaurant, or as the staff's T-shirts say, "Where the unusual is usual." The store opened for business on January 9, 2010. Joy Hildreth, owner-operator of The Old Store, said she at first envisioned an antique store. Hildreth has long been a collector of vintage drink, cigarette and gas signs. Hildreth decided to add a convenience store, and then to sell hot dogs. And, if licensed to sell hot dogs, why not become a full restaurant, she reasoned. "It just kinda grew bigger and bigger."

Carly Little, Chamber of Commerce president, remarked, "It looks like a wonderful store. I'm sure the citizens of Lilesville appreciate it. It's clean and convenient. I wish you much success."

Anna Baucom, chairman of the Anson Co. Bd of Commissioners. "I know what a leap of faith it is to make this kind of investment." She praised Hildreth, saying, "You took something old and didn't tear it down, but reused and renovated. I wish you all the success in the world."

Other elected officials attending were N.C. Sen. Bill Purcell, N.C. Rep. Pryor

Owner-operator Joy Hildreth (holding the scissors) and staff

Gibson and Anson Co. Sheriff Tommy Allen.

Speaking to the assembled guests, Hildreth said, "This is a very new adventure for me. "I couldn't have done it without help," she added, indicating her staff. "There are some new things coming down the road, so keep checking in."

Later, Hildreth said a couple events coming up is a Cruise-In, to be held the second Saturday of each month starting in April. Also a Corn Hole tournament, it's similar to horseshoes in that the object of the game is to get a bag of corn through a hole on a board.

Following the ceremony, visitors enjoyed free samples of fried pickles, listened to a band and chatted with friends and neighbors. The Old Store opens at 5:30 a.m. every morning (7:00 a.m. on Sunday) to serve a full breakfast menu that includes eggs, country ham, bacon, sausage, hash browns, grits, pancakes and French toast. Lunch and dinner begin with appetizers such as fried pickles or bacon and cheese fries, salads, chicken, hamburger or shrimp plates, and a variety of sandwiches. Kids meals are also available.

The restaurant closes at 9:00 p.m. nightly and the convenience store closes at 10:00 p.m. The Old Store is located at 3944 Vintage Road, Lilesville, just off Highway 74.

ANSON COMMUNITY KITCHEN UNVEILED!

Approximately 100 people were on hand to officially unveil the Anson Community Kitchen on March 11. The event included a ribbon-cutting ceremony and an open house to tour the facility.

The community kitchen project, initiated by New Ventures Business Development Inc. (NVBDI) in partnership with SPCC, will allow local caterers and food preparers access to a certified kitchen to ready food for public consumption and/or sale.

Don Altieri, NVBDI executive director, said the genesis of the kitchen came about to allow public access to a facility that would give caterers an opportunity to utilize the kitchen to prepare food for on-site or off-site events. In addition, he said that farm families who want to expand their commodity items into a revenue source will be able to use the community kitchen to produce value-added products for sale.

The 900-square-foot kitchen is adjacent to the Ingram Room at SPCC's Lockhart-Taylor Center; and offers users a 10-burner range with two conventional ovens, a 30-gallon tilt skillet/braising pan, two full-size convection ovens, a two-door reach-in freezer, a three-door reach-in refrigerator, a temperaturesanitizing dishwasher and a microwave oven. Altieri said the kitchen has an easy access to a loading dock for food preparers who need to load or unload items.

Lynn Edwards, executive director of the Anson Co. Chamber of Commerce, welcomed attendees to the ribbon-cutting and open house. "I am personally excited about the community kitchen because the Chamber's annual dinner meeting has outgrown our other site," she said.

John McKay, president of SPCC, said the community kitchen "has been a long time coming but it will be a benefit to the community."

Major funding sources for the community kitchen included a U.S. Department of Agriculture rural business enterprise grant; a N.C. Rural Economic Dev. Center grant; a Golden LEAF Foundation grant; the Effie Allen Little Foundation; the Elizabeth Burns Yost Foundation; the William A. Smith Trust; Pee Dee Electric; Progress Energy; and Stogner Architecture. Sponsors of the open house included Anson Bank & Trust, Branch Banking & Trust, CMH Flooring, Stogner Architecture and R. Black & Associates.

Caterers Beth Rogers, Rogers & Thompson Caterers, and Contressa Martin, Good Company Caterers, were on hand to provide refreshments. Bob and Lisa Blalock, Events Catering, also offered refreshments but were catering another event.
